Reflections on the people, places, and incredible animals of South Africa to be presented at the U of M Crookston on Tuesday, April 21

By Elizabeth Tollefson on Thursday, April 16, 2015

University of Minnesota Crookston Chancellor Fred Wood andwildlife biologist Dan

Svedarsky will give a joint presentation on Africa, on Tuesday, April 21 at 6 p.m. in the Prairie Room, Sargeant Student Center.

ChancellorWood visited South Africa in December 2014 since he has a daughter in Swaziland-serving as a Peace Corp Volunteer. While there, he also visited Kruger NationalPark. "It was a rich cultural and naturalhistory experience," notes Chancellor Wood. "The conditions are very differentfrom North America in so many ways, and I now have a deeper appreciation forthat part of the world."

Dan Svedarsky was in Durbin, South Africa, in 2012presenting a paper at the International Wildlife Management Congress and alsovisited Kruger Park.

The joint presentation will feature many slides andaccompanying narrative on the people, places, and incredible animals of theAfrican Bush and Savannah. The event is open to the public and is part of EarthMonth at the Crookston campus and sponsored by the Crookston Students forSustainable Development. Light refreshments will be served.

For more information, contact Dan Svedarsky at 218-281-8129.
